Caron Tabb: Reflections on Lake McGregor

During the past two years Caron's teenage son, has attended Montana Academy a therapeutic boarding school in Marion and subsequently, as part of the Academy's program, the Senior class at Flathead High School. He has benefited from an incredibly sophisticated therapeutic program, talented people, incredible friends and a strong sense of community. Caron has painted her way through this difficult journey. She has used her art both as therapy and a tool for raising awareness, breaking down barriers to care and eliminating stigma surrounding mental health.

“My art replaces what I can't say in words. The air I breathe, my joy and pain, my fear and fearlessness.”
